

VISIT THE CARBONX BOOTH AT THE ENFORCEMENT EXPO

Leading manufacturer of FR fabrics partners with Oakley, Fire-Dex, and others to deliver the highest level of protection in the industry

WHAT: CarbonX® fabrics and apparel will be on display at the Enforcement Expo, August 31–September 2.

CarbonX fabrics and apparel are specifically crafted to safeguard America’s police, military, and other tactical forces. Known for their demonstrably superior protective properties, CarbonX products are comprised of a proprietary blend of high-performance fibers that provide the ultimate level of defense against direct flame, extreme heat, molten metal, hot/flammable liquids, and arc flash hazards.

CarbonX partners with Oakley, Fire-Dex, PGI, Quest Fire Apparel, Hot Shield USA, and other distributors worldwide to deliver customized solutions. For example, CarbonX recently teamed with Oakley to develop an elite, flame-resistant, assault/tactical boot unlike any other in the industry.

CarbonX fabrics are also used in baselayer garments, gloves, balaclavas, socks, pants, shirts, outerwear, helmet liners, and vehicle/equipment lining, among other tactical applications.
